DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-4, 7-9, 20-34 and 36-38 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 and 20-23 of copending Application No. 11/657,272. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the only difference between the claims is the refining of the fibers after the treatment. However, refining the fiber is a common operation in the pulp and papermaking industry to modify the morphology of the fibers to desired levels depending upon the use of such pulps, e.g. refining to decrease the size of the fibers or to fibrillate the fibers such to increase inter-fiber bonding, etc. Note also that the previously cited US Patent No. 4,599,138, to LINDAHL, teaches the conventionality of refining pulps.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

3. Claims 1-4, 7-9, 20-34 and 36-38 provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of copending Application No. 12/152,829. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the overlapping of the scope of the claims. The only difference between the claims is the recitation of the use of cellulosic fibers in the method of the copending application and softwood fibers in the current application. However, softwood fibers are specie of the cellulosic fibers and it is well known to use such specie for making pulp for paper making, see for example the previously cited US Patent No. 4,599,138.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-38 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

5. Applicants' arguments see Remarks, filed November 17, 2008, with respect to claims 1-4, 7-9, 20-34 and 36-38 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejections of January 15, 2008 under 35 U.S.C. §102(b) over Lindahl and under 35 U.S.C. §103(a) over Lindahl in view of Kempf have been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: applicants arguments filed on November 17, 2008 are convincing, the cited prior does not teach a method as it is now claimed.

7. As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure n the art of "Peroxide Treatment of Papermaking Pulps."
